Your International Leadership Trail

Bring your personal leadership and team forward

YIELT is a new leadership programme for people managing international projects and leading (virtual) teams in a complex and changing environment. This programme makes you a more proactive leader and helps you to incorporate personal values and cultural diversity in your work.

YIELT's four-day leadership training

Boost your cross-cultural communication

Learn how to use cultural diversity to create strong and innovative teams.

Become a proactive leader and live up to your values

Align your personal values, talents and ambition with your leadership style.

Get inspired

Learn from our guest speakers how to add elements from the world of science, business, media, sports (martial) arts and music, to your leadership style.

About YIELT

Sylla Pahladsingh and Yvonne Hens van Beurden are seasoned trainers and coaches with more than 20 years of experience in the international corporate and non-profit world. Together we have trained thousands of professionals from Argentina to China. We believe that strong leadership is an attitude rather than a skill. Key is to better understand yourself and be open and curious to others. We believe that this is how you create commitment and trust in your projects.
